Good afternoon!

I am Adam Vasil, an assistant coach for the Cougars’ baseball team on campus. We have recently had one computer science student express interest in baseball analytics. She will be helping our program with her skills and interest in compiling data, cleaning data, and creating deliverables. If you are familiar with baseball there is a great deal of numbers! If they are processed creatively, it can be used to improve strategy and then performance.

I am reaching out with the hope that this message can be shared with any students that may have interest in taking SIUE Baseball to the next level. There are no barriers to entry or prerequisite knowledge of baseball required. We are willing and excited to provide experience to students. We understand these students will provide immense value to us, thus our goal of helping them grow as well!!

Our staff has connections with MLB analytics teams and will provide an opportunity for those interested to create relationships with such people.

The areas we are looking to improve are:

- Data collection and recording
- Weekly scouting reports
- Skill acquisition

If you have any questions, concerns, or referrals please let me know! You can forward this email / include my contact information with whomever you share:
